WHO FOR SECOND PLACE

THIS IS PROBLEM FOR REPUBLICANS IN CHICAGO TO SOLVE.

TEMPORARY OFFICERS ARE NAMED

The Anti-Injunction Plank of the Platform Passed Upon By Mr. Roosevelt, Wielder of the Big Stick.

Chicago, June 15.—Senator Dolliver, of Iowa; Representative Jas. Sherman, of New York; Vice President Fairbanks, and former Governor Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey, still continue to be the more generally discussed of the vice presidential possibilities. It still remains the under current of opinion that an attempt may be made to nominate Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York, for the second place, with Taft at the head of the ticket.

For the first time since his arrival from Fort Dodge Friday, Senator Long, of Kansas, today manifested a disposition to weaken in his advocacy of the Iowa senator. He did not say he would not continue his efforts, but expressed his sympathy with Iowa republicans and was by no means as determined as formerly in pressing the claims of his friend, Dolliver.

The anti-injunction plank of the platform as passed upon at Washington is as follows: "We declare for such an amendment to the statutes of the procedure in federal courts in respect to writs of injunction as will, on one hand, prevent the summary issue of such order without proper consideration, and, on the other, will preserve undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their processes, to the end that justice may be done at all times and to all parties."

Over this plank there is a very sharp contest, the labor leaders urging its adoption, while hundreds of telegrams are pouring in from manufacturers and other employers of labor, opposing the measure.

The tariff revision plank as proposed by the Taft people, is: "The republican party declares unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of congress immediately and commends the steps already taken to this end in the work assigned to the committees of the two houses, which are now investigating the operation and effect of existing schedules."

Roosevelt Makes His Choice.
Washington, June 15.—It was stated at the White House today that the administration prefers either Dolliver or Cummins, both of Iowa, for vice president.

Chicago, June 15.—The following is the list of temporary officers of the republican national convention, which convenes at noon Tuesday, as decided upon by the national committee:

Temporary chairman—Senator J. C. Burrows, Michigan.

The Missouri at Boonville.

Frank E. Gibbons, manager of the Western Union telegraph office, was today advised that the Missouri river at Boonville rose five inches last night. The water is up to the platform at the Missouri Pacific depot and the track is under water from the bridge to a point below Sombart's mill.

Information from St. Louis is that the river will rise 18 inches by Tuesday, making it 28 feet, and lacking only 2 feet of being as high as it was in 1903.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a telegram to the Democrat-Sentinel stated that the Missouri had risen five inches at Boonville since 7 o'clock this morning.

Called Away by Death.

Nick Younker and brother, George Younker, were called to New Stover Saturday by the death of their mother, Mrs. John Younker.

IS MORE SERIOUS TODAY

FLOOD CONDITIONS IN KANSAS CITY ARE NOW AT ACUTE STAGE.

RIVER IS, HOWEVER, STATIONARY

If No Further Rain Falls It Is Hoped That the Waters Will Rise No Higher—The Conditions Elsewhere.

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Flood conditions are more serious in Kansas City today than at any time since the present rise of the Kaw and Missouri rivers, but both were stationary at 8 o'clock this morning and it is believed the waters will begin to recede in twenty-four hours.

No heavy rains have fallen in this territory since Saturday and although weather conditions are still unsettled there is no immediate prospect of further precipitation.

When the rivers became stationary this morning the Kaw registered 29.6 feet, while the gauge of the Missouri showed 30.2 feet.

Improved Conditions in Topeka.

Topeka, Kas., June 15.—Flood conditions here have improved very much and while the greater portion of North Topeka is from two inches to two feet under water, it is slowly receding. The Kaw was twenty-two feet this morning, two feet lower than Saturday's crest. It will be back in its channel before night.

River Stationary at St. Joe.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 15.—The Missouri river has been stationary here since Sunday morning, and it is thought the worst is now over.

St. Louis, Mo., June 15.—The Mississippi river is still rising at this point and at noon was two and a half feet above the danger line. The water covered the levee and is lapping the buildings along the river front.

IN HONOR OF BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Ruth Fitzgerald Entertained Friends Today.

Miss Ruth Fitzgerald entertained seven tables of friends at her home this morning in compliment to Miss Maud Hunnicke, whose approaching marriage was recently announced, and the latter's guests, Misses Enla Baker of Moberly, and Edna Rascher, of St. Louis.

The game of "500" furnished the amusement, and two prizes were awarded, the bride's prize being a book, while the other prize, a pin, went to Miss Kathryn Monroe, of Tipton. Refreshments of raspberry sherbet, wafers and minis were served.

After the playing a musical program was rendered, the following participating:

Miss Rascher, instrumental music.
Miss Mae Hunnicke, vocal selections.
Miss Alice Brown, piano selections.
Miss Ruth Martin, piano selections.

Condition of Chief Bouillt.

Chief of Police W. H. Bouillt, who has been bedfast with appendicitis at his home for several days, had a bad night Saturday night, but today is pronounced some better.

BRYAN IS CERTAINLY "IT"

THE SO-CALLED CONTEST OVER DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES SIMPLY FARFICAL.

THERE'RE NOW 145 UNINSTRUCTED

Of Sixty-Four Elected During Week Neither Johnson Nor Gray Got One—Nebraskan Now Has 631 Instructed.

Uninstructed, unclassified, 6.

Yet to be elected, probably anti-Bryan, 5.

Yet to be elected, doubtful, 10.

Total delegates, so far elected, 876.

Yet to be elected, 132.

Washington, June 15.—A summary of the so-called contest over delegates to the democratic national convention this week shows that William J. Bryan is still getting everything in sight. As a contest it is a farce. For Mr. Bryan it is merely a summer evening parade.

During the last week sixty-four delegates were elected. They come from: Kentucky, twenty-six; Virginia, twenty-four; Oregon, eight, and Utah, six. Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, did not get a delegate; Judge Gray, of Delaware, did not get a delegate. The Bryan sentiment swept everything. All sixty-four were instructed to vote for the Nebraska leader.

The contest in Virginia, which has been shaking that state from tide water to the mountains, culminated in the state convention at Roanoke Thursday. By the time the delegates had assembled it was evident that the Bryan men had routed the faction headed by Thomas F. Ryan and Senator John W. Daniel.

An estrangement between Senator Daniel and Mr. Bryan began in the Willard hotel in Washington, last winter, during one of Mr. Bryan's numerous visits to the national capital. Senator Daniel and Mr. Bryan met. Senator Daniel found fault with Mr. Bryan for dictating to the democratic party and for following the advice of radical and irresponsible thinkers rather than of Democrats of long standing. Mr. Bryan did not like it. Both men lost their good nature and parted without shaking hands.

Senator Daniel was beaten in the contest for delegate to the state convention, and at Roanoke, after instructions were passed, he was required to pledge himself to obey those instructions before being elected a delegate to the national convention.

Mr. Bryan has thus far 631 instructed delegates and 145 delegates not instructed, but classed for him. This makes a total of Bryan delegates already elected of 776, 104 more delegates in the Bryan bag than the necessary two-thirds. Of the delegates yet to be elected, 117 are probably for the Nebraskan. If there are all carried by Mr. Bryan his majority in the convention will be 893.

In view of the continuance of the steady "set" of the tide toward Bryan these figures are really conservative. New York, which is not instructed, is still classed for Bryan. No changes have been made by the developments of the week in the strength of the other candidates. Governor Johnson has Minnesota's twenty-two delegates. Judge Gray has thirty-five delegates instructed or classed for him.

SENTENCE IS REDUCED

That of a Horse Thief From Six Years to Five Years.

Circuit Judge Hoffman today reduced from six to five years the sentence of Isaac Jackson, convicted of stealing a horse, who was recently ordered sent to the penitentiary for six years by a jury in criminal court.

Other entries in circuit court were: State vs. Lloyd Cannon, rape; defendant files motion to assign cause to separate number and motion overruled and defendant excepts.

State vs. Lloyd Cannon, attempt to rape; same entry as foregoing.

Attorneys for Cannon applied for a continuance and Judge Hoffman took the matter under advisement.

Sold to Warrensburg People.

One bar in Sedalia on Saturday sold to residents of Warrensburg $16 worth of liquor in flasks, while another establishment sold to Johnson county people several gallon jugs of whiskey.

Warrensburg and Johnson county are "dry," and there is scarcely a day passes that people from that section do not come here to do their trading. Not only do they buy "wet goods," but dry goods, clothing and other articles needed in their homes.

THE MISSOURI SPECIAL

DELEGATES HAD A FINE TRIP FROM ST. LOUIS TO CHICAGO SUNDAY.

THEY TOLD STORIES TO KILL TIME

Cherry Pies Like Mother Used to Make for Luncheon—Two Giants Created a Stir—Were Met by Other Delegates.

Chicago, Ill., June 15.—Resplendent with flags and bunting and aglow with pictures of Taft, the Missouri special, bearing the delegates to the national convention, arrived at the La Salle street station about 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The Missouri contingent, which was chaperoned by United States Senator William Warner, was met at the station by a delegation in which all the presidential candidates were represented, and escorted to the Grand Pacific hotel, the headquarters of the delegation.

Forty rooms were awaiting the arrival of the sons of Joe Bowers' state, which were reserved for delegates only. Those who came on the special to attend the convention as spectators only, registered at the various hotels, some going to the homes of friends or relatives.

The trip from St. Louis to the Windy City was replete with incidents characteristic only of the life of a true politician.

The train which was composed of ten coaches, in addition to the private car of Col. R. C. Kerens, was equipped with buffets galore. Apostles of the Mysterious Stranger recruited themselves to the cozy corner, where beverages were dispensed for the mere asking and the exhibition of a piece of filthy lucre.

Between drinks the delegates and friends passed their time at cards, high five, poker and seven-up being engaged in for hours. It was even reported some of the Missourians tried their luck at old maid, but this report could not be officially confirmed.

The trip to the breezy metropolis was not without other interesting features. When it comes to telling yarns, or, more familiarly speaking, tales, Missourians rank high.

Sunday was a banner day in that respect. The tale fest began in certain quarters of the train before the special had crossed the Mississippi river into Illinois. Senator William Warner, Judge Charles F. Gallenkamp, Congressman Harry M. Rhodes, former Congressman M. E. Rhodes, Judge Bert D. Norton and many other celebrities took turns in the contest and for a time it looked as if the mystery of perpetual motion had been solved. Some were new and were fairly spicy, but it would be undignified to eviscerate the age of others.

A "Missouri Taft special" luncheon was served on the train. The bill of fare concluded with cherry pie. It was of the brand that mother used to make, and probably no passenger deserted the noon day table without burying his facial expressions in a piece of the pride of Missouri households.

When the train reached Chicago and the delegates began to unload Missouri made Illinois sit up and take notice. Big Ed Regenhardt, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., who has been the reputed giant of the republican party in Missouri, alighted from the train with J. W. Caldwell, of Marble Hill, one of the uninstructed Missouri delegates, who makes an ordinary man look like a 2-year-old.

The waiting crowd ignored completely the leaders of the delegation to gaze upon these two human mountains. Caldwell and Regenhardt strolled up the street toward the hotel, while the remainder of the contingent climbed into cabs and rode away.

FLAG DAY WAS OBSERVED

A NEW STAR FOR OLD GLORY ON THE FOURTH OF JULY OF PRESENT YEAR.

131ST ANNIVERSARY OF ADOPTION

Proper Date for Celebration is June 14, but as That Date Fell on Sunday, Was Postponed Until Monday.

Washington, June 15.—Flag day, the 131st anniversary of the adoption of the national emblem, was generally observed in the national capital. Flags were displayed on all public buildings and hundreds of private edifices.

The real anniversary is June 14, but owing to that date falling on Sunday, the public observance was postponed until today.

This year's celebration is rendered especially notable because of the fact that a new star, representing Oklahoma, will be added to the banner on July 4.

The observance of Flag day had its inception a decade ago, when a national organization was formed for that purpose.

The American Flag association was planned on July 15, 1897, and completely organized on February 18, 1898.

It represents an association of individual members and also the members of flag committees of patriotic societies.

Col. Ralph Earl Prime, of Yonkers, N. Y., is president. The vice presidents include Admiral Dewey, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles and a number of other prominent American patriots.

FLOOD BOOSTS MEAT PRICES

Kansas City Packers Announce a Three-Cent Raise Today.

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Meat jumped 3 cents in price this morning. The retail meat dealers were notified by the packing houses Saturday that the price will be raised on account of the scarcity of live stock and their inability to operate packing houses on account of the flood. Meat from other cities will have to be shipped in if the high water continues long.

Local butchers are getting their meat at present from the St. Louis Dressed Beef Co., and had not been notified of any increase in price today.

ORDERED TO RES'GN

Attorney General Hadley Demands Gentry's Immediate Resignation.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 15.—Attorney General Hadley today notified N. T. Gentry, assistant, to resign his office, telling him that if he failed to do so promptly proceedings will be instituted at once to remove him.

Relations between Hadley and Gentry have been strained ever since Gentry refused to retire from the race for the attorney generalship when ordered to do so by Hadley.

Fire Alarm Sent In.

A fire alarm was sent in from Thirty-second and Ohio avenue at 8 o'clock this morning, but being out of the fire hydrant limit the fire department did not respond. If there was a fire, the people of that locality know nothing of it.

IOLA'S SUNDAY CLOSING

A CONGRESSMAN HAD TO GET A FARM WAGON TO HAUL HIS BAGGAGE.

A THEATER OPEN OUTSIDE LIMITS

All Stores Were Closed and the News Agents Couldn't Sell Papers—Even Buggy Riding Was Abandoned.

Iola, Kas., June 15.—Iola had its first taste of Sunday closing yesterday. The council recently passed an ordinance closing the theaters and cigar stores and those affected by its provisions caused the passage of an other ordinance making it unlawful to work on Sunday. Sunday newspapers were not allowed sold or delivered.

The Kansas City papers reach Iola at 6 o'clock in the morning and there were about 150 persons at the depot to buy a Sunday paper of the railway news agent.

The Iola agents opened their bundles and told customers to help themselves. Most of these left a nickel on the ground, but the agents refused to pick up the money and it was finally stolen.

Hack service to the trains was abandoned. Representative Scott and family arrived home from Washington on an early train and when he found no hacks or transfers he telephoned to his brother-in-law in the country to bring in the farm wagon and haul out the baggage to his home. Travelling men were unable to get their baggage to the depot yesterday and had to remain over until today.

All stores were closed. The sale of ice cream and soda water was forbidden. The street cars were allowed to run, but the names of conductors and motormen were taken and they are to be arraigned in police court. Warrants for the arrest of the telephone girls in the exchanges will also be sworn out.

Just outside the city limits Electric park was running as usual. The theater on the grounds gave a matinee and night performance.

Pleasure riding in buggies was abandoned, except by those who wished to hitch up their own horses or kept the horses at home. Livery stables refused to rent any rigs. Doctors were unable to get their horses from the livery stables after midnight unless they went after them. The zinc and cement factories were run, but they are outside the city limits and are not affected by the ordinance.

DID HONOR TO FLAG

Sedalia Lodge of Elks Appropriately Observed the Day.

Sedalia lodge No. 125, B. P. O. E., observed Flag day very appropriately Sunday afternoon, holding services at the New Sedalia theater.

Members of the lodge met at their rooms at 2 o'clock and preceded by the Sedalia Military band, marched 150 strong, south on Lamine street to Broadway, west on Broadway to Ohio, north on Ohio to Third, and east on Third to the theater, where a splendid audience had gathered to witness the exercises.

The auditorium and stage were beautifully decorated with hundreds of Old Glory, and on the stage were seated the officers of the lodge, together with Revs. J. B. Fuller and L. J. Baughman and Hon. James A. Reed, of Kansas City, speaker of the occasion.

The exercises were opened with an invocation by Rev. Mr. Fuller, an address of welcome by Exalted Ruler J. W. Mellor, followed by a most eloquent and patriotic address by Mr. Reed.

Mr. Reed's remarks were most beautiful and inspiring, tending to create in the heart of every listener feelings of deeper reverence and love for the Stars and Stripes and the country and principles of freedom for which it stands.

The program closed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Baughman.

The exercises were interspersed with patriotic and religious selections by the band. The entire program was a most inspiring one and marks the beginning of the yearly observance of the day by the great organization of Elks, which is pre-eminently an American order.

ABOUT BABY BILL.

The campaign has already begun, and indications are not wanting that the "eternal feminine" is about to leap into it "with both feet," so to speak. In a publication called the Ladies' Monitor is given a most interesting account of the babyhood of Secretary Taft. It is said a "sweeter baby than Secretary Taft never lived; when he was three months old he could call for his nurse, and when he reached the mature age of five years he began to play with leaden soldiers—a happy premonition of his future career as secretary of war and foremost champion of imperialism. There is much more of this early history which convinced the parents that "in Willie they possessed a baby who had a future."

Although this purports to have been written by a woman for women, there is some reason to suspect its authorship in one of the Byzantines of the Taft campaign committee. Was it Hitchcock or Vorys?

THE REAL MISSION.

As an advertising authority quoted by the Shoe and Leather Reporter says: "If you have a monopoly you can sit down and wait until people come to you. If you have competition you have got to go out to the people and tell them why they should patronize you instead of the other fellow."

As to the necessity of fighting for the trade in competitive lines this observation is unexceptionable. But it is not considered good business nowadays for even the monopolist to hide his light under a bushel, content with the fortune that Providence sends him.

The Standard Oil monopoly is a consistent advertiser. The steel trust monopoly is a regular user of newspaper space. The General Electric Co. long ago abandoned the policy of sitting down and waiting until people should come to it. The list might be continued indefinitely, but what's the use? It ought to be clear enough by this time that the primary purpose of advertising is not to get business away from a competitor—that's incidental. The real mission of good advertising is to create new business.

TO WATCH THE PACIFIC.

Representative Hobson, who may be regarded as an authority on naval matters, thinks that the battle-ships now in the Pacific should remain in that ocean. He points out that within two or three years a powerful maritime nation has arisen in the Orient, and that this nation is backed by a great standing army, always in readiness to co-operate with the fleet, and he lays particular emphasis on the fact that the strength of the English navy, once deployed in Oriental waters, is now conveniently in the Mediterranean or near the British Channel to watch the growing strength of the German navy.

His conclusion is that it is necessary to our safety to maintain a fleet in the Pacific ocean and to build, as quickly as possible, a powerful fleet for the protection of our Atlantic seaboard. There was a time when the presence of the powerful British navy, with strong representation by French, German and Russian gunboats in Oriental waters neutralized the preponderance of Japan. Now our navy is the only one, it may be said, of any importance in these waters, except that of Japan.

MR. BRYAN'S GREAT LEAD.

Mr. Bryan's lead in the race for the democratic presidential nomination increases from week to week, and, apparently, the opposition has given up all hope of defeating him, or of even preventing his nomination on the first ballot.

The attention of democratic politicians is now turned to the second place on the ticket, and while there have been many rumors connecting John Mitchell with this place, it is now believed that the labor vote would not be especially pleased with such a choice. The claim is made that Mitchell would be more influential as governor of the state of Illinois, to which office he is said to aspire, than as presiding officer of the senate.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP QUESTION.

A question which seems to agitate the minds of many politicians, both democratic and republican, is the platform which the democracy will make at Denver, and the claim is made that if it condemns government ownership of railroads, it can't nominate Mr. Bryan, and if it indorses government ownership, it will be tantamount to a surrender of the election in advance. Again, if it be silent on that question and nominate a man in favor of it, the party will have the burden of the issue to carry. It is generally admitted to be a knotty problem, and the question is, What will the convention do about it?

A REPUBLICAN TARIFF.

The trusts and manufacturers now want a tariff that would enable them to sell cheaper abroad than at home without being detected and still keep the monopoly of the home market. Democrats want a tariff as a means of collecting revenues, but the trusts and the manufacturers never think of that. They only think of monopolies and private gains.

It is reported that an actress was held up recently in Chicago and robbed of two dollars. That the thief overlooked her $10,000 worth of diamonds is an evidence that this was no advertised transaction.

The New York Tribune says that dynamite is a problem that must be grappled with. Most people who have grappled with the dynamite problem are of the opinion that it is one that would much better be left alone.

It is reported that Mars is again flashing signals to our earth. Possibly the inhabitants are curious to know the meaning of the large number of dry spots that have appeared on the map of the United States.

How to Cure Skin Diseases.

Eczema, pimples, dandruff and itching skin diseases are of local origin and are caused by germs. In order to cure these diseases the germs and their poisons must be driven to the surface of the skin and destroyed. Salves and greasy lotions may give temporary relief, but they do not destroy the germs that cause the disease. A St. Louis chemist has discovered a clean vegetable liquid remedy that will draw the germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. This remedy is known as Zemo, and by its many remarkable cures has attracted the attention of the leading scientists and skin specialists of this country and Europe.

Zemo has been given the most cordial reception by the public of any similar remedy ever produced, and it is recognized as an honest medicine that makes honest cures.

Zemo is for sale everywhere. You can obtain a trial package free by writing to the E. W. Rose Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Dan Wilcox, druggist at 104 West Main street, has secured the agency for Zemo in Sedalia and will gladly show you proof of some of the wonderful cures made by this remarkable remedy.

WHY HE PARDONED THEM

GOVERNOR WILLSON WRITES OF CALEB POWERS AND JIM HOWARD.

THEIR PARDON IS UNCONDITIONAL

Chief Executive Says He's Convinced of Their Innocence—Believes Harry Youtsey Fired the Fatal Shot.

Frankfort, Ky., June 15.—Gov. Willson gave out the following reasons for pardoning Caleb Powers and James B. Howard Saturday.

"Application has been made to the governor for the pardon of Caleb Powers, who stands charged by indictment, found in the Franklin circuit court and afterward transferred on change of venue to the Scott circuit court, with the crime of being 'accessory before the fact to the willful murder of William Goebel.'"

"The application is supported by petitions recommending the pardon of the accused, signed by nearly 500,000 persons, some 240,000 Kentuckians, and a large proportion of democrats.

"It is not likely that at any time during my term of office shall I be called upon to decide matters of graver importance than those presented by the application for pardon of Caleb Powers and James B. Howard. I have given to their consideration the most careful, conscientious and thorough investigation and thought in my power. I realize that whatever my decision may be it will be harshly criticised. For more than eight years this group of cases has held the attention of the whole state, and, indeed, of the whole country, as no cases in this state ever did before.

"The murder of Senator Goebel destroyed a remarkable life, brought the deepest grief to his family and thousands of friends who loved him, overthrew a whole state election, destroyed the peace and good feeling of the state for eight years, set neighbor against neighbor, made politics almost war, stained the good name of Kentucky and shocked the civilized world. There was and is no shadow of excuse or palliation for this base crime. There can be no mercy for any one guilty of the murder or of aiding or abetting it, but the more grave the crime, the more serious is the responsibility of deciding the question of guilt, and the more imperative the duty of guarding against injustice and wrong imposed under the pressure of public excitement, passion or prejudice.

"The sympathy which makes all the world akin of every good man and woman, is with the brothers, kinsmen and friends of the victim of the murder. I have not heard nor considered, but have refused to consider, any private or secret request or appeal in either of these cases, and have without exception required that all of the proceedings should be heard publicly, in the presence of representatives of both sides, so that all should know everything to which any weight was given for or against the application, and that all the world should have a chance to judge that the reasons for the decision were just and righteous.

"The conditions which existed when the murder was committed baffled description, and already, after only eight years, seem incredible. The bitter struggle in the democratic party had resulted in the election of the republican state officers and the issue of certificates of election to them by two of three members of the state election board, all three being democrats. This was followed by a contest upon the grounds of military intimidation in Louisville and tissue ballots, with no real merit in either charge.

"There were threats and rumors that the republican state officers were to be turned out of office by fraud and violence, and they appealed to the people to protect them, and on the other side similar reports of intended violence were taken as true. The excitement increased as the contest went on, and there was reason for the constant fear that the passions and menace of the contest might any day suddenly break out in a clash which would cause loss of life and disgrace to Kentucky.

"The reasonable men on both sides tried to quiet the excitement and to uphold law and order. The state officers believed that there was grave danger and that the people's election would be wrongfully set aside, and that their lives were not safe, and in some cases added fuel to the flames by their excited talk, which later on returned to plague them; but through all the storm the great body of the people and most of the members of the general assembly kept their senses and went on under the constitution and law, and the whole state was full of hope for a fair decision of the contest on its merits, when suddenly everybody was startled by the news of the murder of Senator Goebel and there ensued such a storm of passion and excitement that, while many goodmen of both parties stood firm, the voice of reason was drowned in the tumult.

"Peace and good will, law and order, and the support of the government of the state were for the time almost destroyed. The commonwealth was rent by partisan threats and cries for vengeance, and terror usurped the rule of law, and no one could tell what a day might bring forth.

"The officers of the law, close personal and political friends of the murdered senator, spurred by duty and affection alike, used every effort to avenge the murder, and every clow and rumor was eagerly seized upon and followed up with all the energy that horror of crime and personal devotion could inspire, and all sorts of and kinds of men, good and bad, honest and dishonest, and harpies attracted by the reward, joined in the man hunt. The brothers of William Goebel, devotedly attached to his memory, made it the chief end of their lives to punish the criminal, and in that they had the sympathy of every good man and woman."

After reviewing the extraordinary situation in which Kentucky found itself, with the people divided into hostile factions over the noted case, with all its features of political strife and hatred, the governor says:

"I have considered the cases regardless of my personal wishes, sympathy, or first impressions and wholly in the light of truth and right. I neither seek to avoid criticism nor win praise. But I am reverently thankful that it has come to pass that I should be the instrument of justice and mercy, as God has given me to see my duty and know the right, and my faith is that peace and neighborly feeling will put an end to these troubles.

"I grant Caleb Powers a full and unconditional pardon for the offense with which he stands charged and a restoration to all his rights of citizenship, and order that he be forthwith released from jail. My reasons for granting a pardon is that I am firmly convinced that he is beyond all reasonable doubt, innocent of the crime charged against him and that further prosecution against him for the crime charged would be a great wrong and against the peace and well-being of the commonwealth.

"In the trial of Youtsey the state contended earnestly for a verdict in that he fired the fatal shot, and my reading of the testimony leaves no doubt that the charge was conclusively proved and that at the end of his trial he accepted and decided not to appeal from the sentence of imprisonment for life.

"There is very little hope of ever having a jury trial of this case in Kentucky without political questions uppermost in the minds of the court, the counsel and the jury, and because of this and the unequal struggle of the defendant, with no means except those given him against the whole power of the commonwealth, I feel it a plain duty to end this future struggle, the anxiety, distress and waste of time, money and care and take away from both parties the bone of contention; to do all that I can to restore peace to the state.

"For these reasons I pardon Caleb Powers and order his immediate release from the Scott county jail at Georgetown, this June 13, 1908.—Augustus Willson, Governor of Kentucky."

The governor's reasons for the pardon of James B. Howard are set forth to be that careful examination of all of the evidence and proceedings of the trial satisfied him that Howard had nothing whatever to do with the murder of William Goebel.

Righteous Act, Says Taylor.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 15.—William S. Taylor, former governor of Kentucky and now a fugitive in this city, where he has lived since the assassination of Gov. Goebel, made this comment when he learned of the pardons:

"The pardon of Caleb Powers and James Howard is a most righteous act. Never before in the history of this country have two men suffered more unjustly."

Powers to Resume Law Practice.

Georgetown, Ky., Caleb Powers gave out a statement from his hotel here, in which he says:

"The decision of Gov. Willson to the effect that I am entitled to my liberty after his long and painstaking examination of the records in all the trials is, I think, as much a vindication of my good name as though my liberty had come through the decision of the average jury, especially in view of the fact that ten of the jury in the last trial voted for my acquittal.

"I am going home to my poor old mother and will remain there a few weeks in the hope of regaining my health. If my health is sufficiently recovered by September 1 I shall re-enter the practice of law in my home town, Barbourville, Ky., unless something much better presents itself between now and then."

Asked if he meant to re-enter politics, Powers' reply was: "Don't mention politics to me."

"Dr. A. H. Heaton, of Sedalia, Mo., who is making an economical tour through Europe on his fifteen horse power automobile, is making excellent progress. At Neufchatel this week he told a correspondent of the Republic his trip was working out much cheaper than the $5 a day limit. "Up to the present the average cost for each person has been $3.73. The roads were so good that instead of 100 kilometer stages he has made 200 or 300. He found no trouble whatever with frontier officials, and advised automobilists to take a little trouble before starting to get their papers correct, and then all would be smooth. "He had no breakdown. The tour was most enjoyable."

YOUNG GIRL IS MISSING

FAMILY HISTORY IS INTERESTING

Relatives of the Young Heiress at Neosho, Missouri, Intimate That They Do Not Know Her Whereabouts.

Neosho, Mo., June 15.—Sheriff W. B. Phillips and his deputies have exhausted every effort to find Miss Grace Davidson, whose whereabouts on the eve of her sister's preliminary trial today for killing Roy Ramsour is baffling friends of the heiresses as well as those of the morning family.

When Sheriff Phillips last night announced his inability to serve a subpoena on the 23-year-old girl, who discarded the suitor slain a week ago by her 18-year-old sister, Bessie, familiarly called "Johnny," it was learned Miss Grace left her home last Tuesday after dark and has not been seen since.

The sheriff's deputies have searched and scoured Southwest Missouri for two days, leaving nothing undone, to find the girl as a state's witness. Inquiry at the Davidson home deepened the mystery surrounding the disappearance of one of the four girls who will share a $200,000 estate, left by their grandfather, William Davidson, a pioneer Louisville banker.

The widowed mother was "not at home." The plaintive expression of beautiful "Johnny," as she demurely shook her head, apparently added to the theory that the girl had been spirited away.

The shooting of Ramsour and the disappearance, three days later, of the girl upon whom he had once been permitted to shower attentions have sutured the ordinarily quiet atmosphere of placid Neosho with a sensationalism it has not experienced since the town was the Confederate capital of Missouri, and has focused attention upon all persons involved. A sketch of the family history has developed an interesting story in which fortune and adventure are more or less romantically woven.

It was in the early eighties when Charles Edgar Davidson, a typical Kentucky cavalier, came to Neosho from the Blue Grass state. He was the son of a Louisville banker, and with the charm of southern chivalry and the glamour of southern prodigality, he early became one of the picturesque and widely known characters of Southwest Missouri. The elder Davidson, presumably aware of the "soldier of fortune" temperament of the son, devised his estate in such a way that it should be kept intact for the grand children, his son being limited to the interest of his share of the property.

The same provision applied to a sister, Mrs. Paul Shipley, who is still alive at Beverly, N. J. Mrs. Shipley has no children, consequently the entire estate of $200,000 comes to the four children of Charles Edgar Davidson, when the youngest child, Miss "Johnny," reaches the age of 25. It is this girl who today will face the charge of killing Roy Ramsour.

The elder Davidson was reckoned a Beau Sabreur in the days when Kentucky gallantry and knighthood were in their fullest flower. William Davidson was one of the brilliant figures in the southern capital's Vanity Fair.

It was in this environment of gaiety and revelry and light hearted frivolity that Charles Edgar Davidson spent his early boyhood. And he brought the charm of old Kentucky and its open-door hospitality to Southwest Missouri, where at Neosho, his home, he became the prince host to all he met.

Two years ago Charles Edgar Davidson died. The family continued to live at Neosho, where the children, sole heirs to the William Davidson estate grew to womanhood. Two of the girls married. Mrs. Blackstone lives in Oklahoma, and Mrs. Price, the other married daughter, makes her home here.

Miss Grace Davidson, the girl with whom Roy Ramsour was said to have been infatuated, is exceptionally beautiful. It is said that young Ramsour, who at one time was seemingly a favored suitor, had gotten into bad habits last year and that his attentions had become so annoying that Miss Grace had requested him never to call on her again. At any rate, according to report, Ramsour was no longer a welcome guest, and it is surmised Miss Grace had made a confidante of her younger sister as to how she felt toward Ramsour.

When the young man called at the Davidson home a week ago and began quarreling with Miss Grace, the younger girl requested Ramsour to leave. The details of what followed, culminating in the fatal shooting of Ramsour, will be told at the trial, which promises to become the cause celebre of Newton county.

The state, which will be represented by Prosecuting Attorney Thomas Saxton and Walden & Andrews of Joplin, contemplated making one of their strongest witnesses out of the missing sister. Twelve-year-old Morris McNeal will testify. He was the only eye-witness.

The defense will be conducted by George R. Clay, of Joplin, assisted by former Congressman M. E. Benton and Horace Ruark. It is said that a bottle of carbolic acid carried by Ramsour and emptied upon the Davidson lawn by "Johnny" will figure conspicuously in the trial.

THE PAN-ANGLICAN CONGRESS OPENED TUESDAY IN LONDON, ENGLAND.

'TIS GREAT RELIGIOUS GATHERING

There Are More Important Topics to Be Discussed By Many Learned Men—A Number of Americans Are Present.

London, June 15.—What is beyond doubt the greatest and most important religious gathering in the history of English-speaking peoples was opened today by the Pan-Anglican congress. Nearly eight thousand delegates and visitors, representing dioceses of the church of England and its sister communions throughout the world, are gathered in the world metropolis today and many more are expected.

Today the bishops, clergy and distinguished laymen are the guests at Knebworth, the Hertfordshire seat of Lord Strathcona. The congress will be formally opened tomorrow and will hold its sessions at Albert hall, St. Paul's cathedral and Westminster Abbey. Six other halls in other parts of London have been secured for the sectional meetings.

The great public meetings will be held in Albert hall and St. Paul's. Nearly all the Episcopal bishops of America are in attendance and there is also a large attendance of the clergy and laymen of the United States and Canada.

To the general public perhaps the most interesting section is that which will discuss the relations of the church to human society, as all sorts of present day political and economic problems will be treated. Among these are:

"Morality in Commercial Life," "Sweatshops," "Trade Tricks," "Housing and Family Life," "The Drink Traffic," "Gambling," "Capital and Labor," "Companies and Dividends," "Morality of Control by Legislative Action," "The Unemployed," "Relief," "Religion and Wages," "Monopolies and Trusts" and "Christianity and Socialism."

The latter subject will form the basis of an extended discussion. The authors of the program lay great stress upon the question whether the gigantic forces represented by international socialism, already nearing its triumph in continental Europe and constantly gaining in England and America, can be brought under the guidance of Christianity. Church leaders from all parts of the world will take part in the discussion.

The relations of the missions to government and national customs form the subject of papers by Sir Charles Elliott, late lieutenant governor of Bengal, Colonel Montgomery and the bishop of Madagascar, while the efforts of Mohammedans to spread their faith with special reference to Pan-Islamism will be reviewed by Professor Margoliouth. The racial problems of America, South Africa, China, India and the West Indies will also be treated.

The subjects to be considered by the various sections are: "The Church and Human Society," "The Church and Human Thought," "The Church's Ministry," "The Church's Mission in Non-Christian Lands," "The Anglican Communion," "The Church's Duty to the Young."

In the second section papers will

DO YOU GET UP

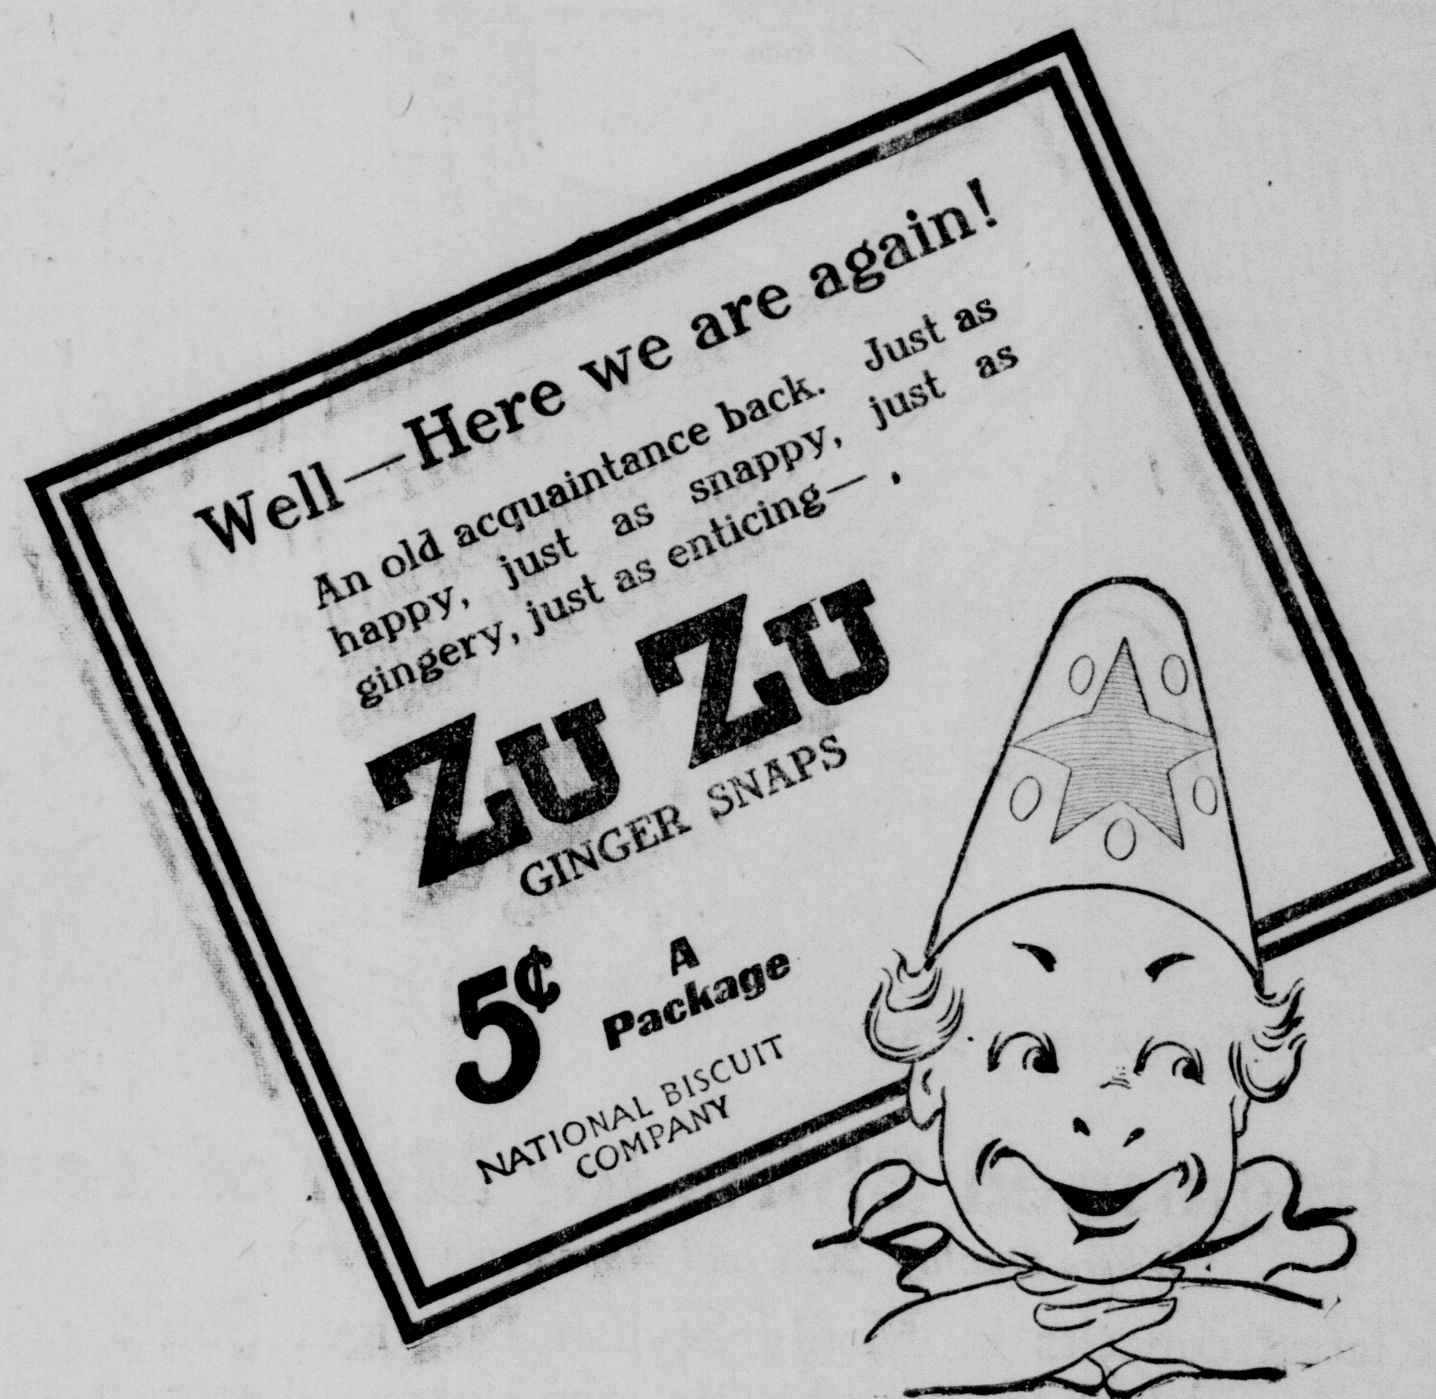

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

be read in contrasting Christian philosophy and Pantheism, and Christian Science and Agnosticism. The relations of religion and science will be treated by Sir Dyer Duckworth. A. C. Benson will read a paper on Church and Literature and Leo Strachey will discuss the Ethics of Journalism.

The internal affairs of the church will be debated in the third section and in the fourth the foreign affairs of the church will be reviewed.

Tomorrow the archbishop of Canterbury will occupy the chair, and he will be succeeded by the bishop of Calcutta, the archbishop of the West Indies, the bishop of Missouri (Bishop Tuttle, presiding bishop of the church in the United States), the archbishop of Cape Town, the archbishop of Sydney, the bishop of London, the bishop of Stepey, and the bishop of Kensington.

In all, 251 dioceses are represented, and there are 1,000 colonial and foreign delegates at the congress and 200 bishops among the 8,000 members of the church. About 100,000, 000 people are represented. Three meetings will be held every day. The delegates for the most part, will be accommodated at the clubs.

The congress was called by Bishop Montgomery, of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, the organization being undertaken by the United Boards of Missions. A fortnight after the close of the congress the bishops will hold their fifth decennial meeting, known as the Lambeth conference. For this conference all the bishops of the communion will be present, even if they cannot manage to come for the Pan-Anglican congress. Among them will be two colored bishops from Western Africa.

A special thanksgiving meeting will be held, at which offerings will be presented by the bishops from the various dioceses. The money will be devoted to the formation of new dioceses in Singapore, Manchuria, Northern Australia, Northern Rhodesia, and at Khartoum and Edmonton, (Canada.)

A STORY FROM CALLAWAY COUNTY

"Aunt Judy" Jennings, Negress,
When Metamorphosis is Complete,

Fulton, Mo., June 15.—"Lan' sakes, chile, 'Aunt Judy' Jennings, of Fulton, once a coal black negro 'mammy,' is turning white!

Her entire body, save face, neck and arms, from her elbows down, has taken on the color of the Caucasian.

"I began turnin' white twenty years ago," said Aunt Judy at her cabin, "and been gettin' white ever since."

"Looky here," she said, as she bared her arms and showed the difference between their color and that of her hands. "An' my body, all over, clean to my toes, is jes' as white."

The aged darky's arms are so free of the African hue that even the blue veins are in evidence.

At her neck above the collar of her dress, the change in color also is plainly seen, and promiscuous white spots on her head, neck and face told that it would not be long before Aunt Judy would be without any feature to show her negro ancestry, save her flat nose and kinky hair.

"When I gets through turnin' white I'se gwine to get a wig an' wear my hair like white folks," she said.

Aunt Judy is nearly 90 years old, as well as she can remember. She was brought from Virginia to Missouri when a child. Long before the civil war she belonged to Tartan Smith, a Callaway county pioneer.

When Tartan Smith's daughter, Miss Parnell, was married to Chas. A. Bailey, who represented Callaway in the Missouri legislature many years ago, Aunt Judy was a present to the bride, and after Mrs. Bailey's death lived with the young master till the slaves were freed.

Mr. Bailey is still living in Fulton. He is 93 years old. It was through his generosity that Aunt Judy has the home in which she now lives, with her big shepherd dog, "Shiloh."

WILL TALK TEMPERANCE

WORLD'S CENTENNIAL OPENED AT SARATOGA SPRINGS
THIS MORNING.

HALL WAS FILLED TO OVERFLOWING

International Celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the First Temperance Society By Dr.
"Billy" Clark.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 15.—With William T. Wardwell, of New York, presiding, and with temperance workers of international reputation filling the great convention hall to overflowing, the World's Temperance Centennial Congress was opened this morning.

Religious services were held in all the churches yesterday, but today's meeting marked the formal inauguration of the international celebration of the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the first temperance society by "Billy" Clark.

Addresses on the birth of the temperance reform and a review of the temperance condition of the world a century ago were the features of the morning meeting.

Meetings for women and children were held shortly after noon and will be followed at 3 o'clock by a great mass meeting in Convention hall.

Governor Hughes will deliver the official address of welcome, on behalf of the state, and responses are scheduled from Oliver W. Stewart, of Illinois, and Seaborn Wright, of Georgia. The latter was the leader of the legislative forces responsible for the passage of the Georgia prohibition measure. His speech is awaited with special interest, because of the fact that the recent primary, in which Governor Hoke Smith was defeated, is looked upon as a defeat of the prohibition movement in Georgia.

This evening there will be a Good Templars' reception in Convention hall, to be followed by a banquet, at which addresses will be made by George F. Cottle, of Seattle, Wash., national grand chief templar; Joseph Malins, of Birmingham, England, and Tom Honeymoon, of Glasgow, Scotland.

Woman Courts Starvation When Death Vision Fails.

Paterson, N. J., June 15.—Mrs. Anna Kiselcia, who was scheduled to die yesterday by reason of a vision she had three weeks ago, is still healthy and sound at the Passaic general hospital.

When she found Sunday morning that she was not dying at the hour appointed, 6 o'clock, she refused to take nourishment.

During the day, however, the physicians and nurses prevailed upon the woman to take a little food.

New York, June 15.—Abram Gotofsky returned to his farm house near Troy Hills, N. J., last afternoon. The doctor met him at the door.

"Four," said the doctor.

"No," replied Gotofsky, "it's only half past three."

"Four fine boys this time," said the doctor, breaking it gently.

"Merciful gracious!" cried the farmer, dropping into a chair; "where do I get offsky?"

It was true. Mrs. Gotofsky, nee Gobrecht, had presented her husband with four tokens of her affection.

The four boys weighed altogether sixteen pounds four ounces, and are perfectly formed, have well developed lungs and good appetites.

The attention of President Roosevelt is called respectfully to Mrs. Gotofsky, who does not know what race suicide is. The attention of the trustees of Andrew Carnegie's "hero fund" is called, with equal respect, to Mr. Gotofsky. They have had thirty children in fifteen years, as per time table above. Fourteen survive.

Gotofsky is 40 years old; his wife 32. They first met on the vessel that brought them to this country, in 1891, and were married in New York city. Gotofsky, a farmer in the old country, borrowed some money and bought eighteen acres of land between Pine Brook and Troy Hills, N. J. He has cultivated the fruitful soil so industriously that he owns thirty-eight acres now without a penny mortgage on them.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement in each of its ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult by letter, free. All correspondence is held strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

THREATS FOR GOV. HUGHES

Letters Sent to the Executive Because of His Racing Bills.

Albany, N. Y. June 15.—Since the anti-race track betting bills were signed by Governor Hughes he has received many "crank" letters. One which came in the governor's mail threatens his life, but as this has been done before the governor pays little attention to it.

The number of letters of this sort has increased since the bills were placed on the statute books. For the first time since he has been a resident of Albany Governor Hughes had police protection Saturday. Two men were on duty at the executive mansion and will remain there until the excitement has abated.

WILL YIELD A FORTUNE

The Debris Bought From an Old Mint
at Denver, Colo.

Denver, Colo., June 15.—A fortune wrung from the dust and dirt of the old mint has rewarded the foresight of A. M. Donaldson, who has cleaned up $15,000 to date by "panning" the debris he purchased from the contractors for a scum.

He bought 1,000 loads of mixed debris from the old mint building, hauled it to the banks of the Platte river and constructed an old-style placer mining outfit with a centrifugal pump, electric motor, sluice boxes, rifles and jig and washed the dirt as in a regular placer mine.

He makes a nightly clean-up, recovering gold nuggets, flour gold and some silver.

A LONG DRY SPELL IS AHEAD

Salisbury Saloon Keeper Does Unique Advertising.

Tom Karcher, a saloon keeper at Salisbury, which town lately voted "dry," is running the following unique ad in the Salisbury papers:

"Bargains at Karcher's for the long dry spell. Going out of the saloon business July 9th, on account of local option, and as the time is coming closer every day, I would kindly advise all my friends and patrons (wet or dry) to come in and make their arrangements to purchase and prepare for the long four years' dry spell."

"To my friends that have voted dry I would also advise them to come in and prepare for the long dry spell, for the reason that if they are already dry now they will get more so by that time, as I know of some that are so dry now they are sorry they ever voted dry."

"As the old saying is, 'You will never miss the water until the well goes dry,' so I would advise you to come in and get some of that good water before the well goes dry in order to be prepared for the long dry spell which is confronting us now."

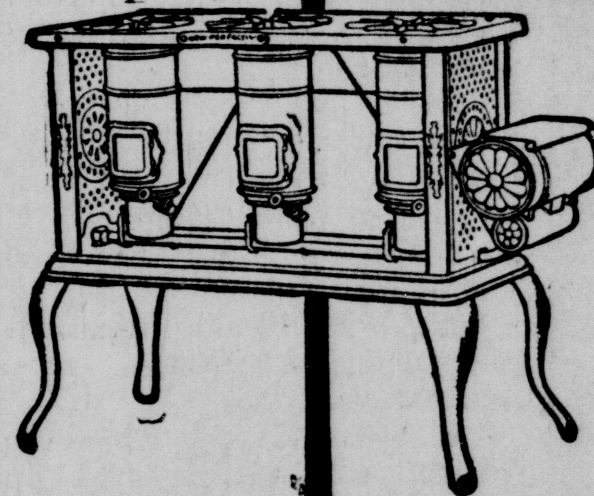

Mrs. S. L. Bowen of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cure took entirely. Foley's Kidney Remedy works wonders where others are a total failure."

A PETTIS COUNTY GOURD

Measures Four Feet and Nine Inches in Length.

Chicago, Ill., June 15.—That section of Missouri which is known as "The Land of the Big Red Apple," the virtues of which are even set forth upon the badges bedecking the Missouri delegation, will present to William H. Taft the most unique gift which will, in all probability, be made to him.

It will not be a "big red apple," but will be a product of the soil, and will exemplify one of the sentiments which has characterized the Roosevelt administration. It is a "big stick."

D. M. Rush, of Dallas county, Mo., who comes as a representative of the Sixteenth congressional district in that state is the bearer and donor of the gift.

This big stick is a gourd, somewhat freakish in its growth, measuring 4½ feet in length and four inches in circumference at its largest part.

The Dallas county gourd is not in it with a Pettis county gourd that Ellis R. Smith will tonight express to Hon. J. H. Bothwell in Chicago, to be presented to Secretary Taft. The Pettis county product is 4 feet and 9 inches in length, and is an almost exact picture of the "big stick" that President Roosevelt is said to wield.

LOCATED IN MISSOURI
Man Who is Charged With Theft of
$10,000 Worth of Gems.

Canton, Ohio, June 15.—John Collins, the Courtland hotel porter who disappeared coincident with the robbery of diamonds and jewelry said to be valued at $10,000, last December, is believed to be under arrest at some point in Missouri. Photos of the prisoner were identified by four attaches of the hotel.

The robbery was one of the boldest
in Canton's history, occurring in the very heart of the city and within 300 feet of a policeman on duty.

Early in the morning the thief
wheeled out of the hotel a trunk containing the jewelry and diamonds of a representative of the firm of West,
White & Christy, Pittsburg.

FLEEING FROM HIGH WATER
Many Homes Deserted at Cedar City, Near Jefferson City.

Jefferson City, June 15.—Practically all the residents of Cedar City, a small town across the Missouri river from here, were driven from their homes Sunday by the continued rise of the river, and several persons living in Jefferson City were compelled to join those who fled from the water
Saturday. The Missouri, Kansas &
Texas railroad, which runs on the Callaway side of the river, abandoned
its train service between Boonville and St. Louis today. It ran all its trains by way of Sedalia.

ESCAPED FROM ASYLUM

"FAINTING BERTHA" RESORTS
TO A RUSE THAT PAN-NED OUT WELL.

BUT SHE WAS CAUGHT ON SABBATH

Woman Has Been Arrested a Score of Times and Confined in as Many Jails, Penitentiaries and Asylums.

Peoria, Ill., June 15.—Bertha Leibeck, better known as "Fainting Bertha," Saturday night escaped from the Bartonville asylum for the incurable insane by a clever ruse.

She was captured here about 9 o'clock Sunday morning by Policeman Damm, of the Peoria police department. She was carefully disguised as a female drummer and when arrested was reading an account of her escape in a morning newspaper on a street corner.

She had planned to leave for the home of her mother, in Council Bluffs, Ia., at 10 o'clock Sunday.

"Fainting Bertha" had been confined in the tent colony because of tuberculosis. She was in the show tent and persuaded a feeble woman from a distant place to take her place in the bed, and when the nurses made their regular inspection they noticed nothing wrong. On reporting to the administration building the report of a missing patient was received and a search was made.

The missing woman was found fast asleep in Bertha's bed and Bertha had escaped with two hours' headway.

"Fainting Bertha" has been arrested a score of times and incarcerated in as many jails, penitentiaries and asylums. She has marvelous proficiency for picking pockets, later distracting attention from the cry of thief by fake fainting spells.

She was born in Omaha, N. b., 28 years ago and comes of good family.
Her operations have extended over a period of fifteen years.

SHE FIRED FIRECRACKERS
Smart Society Girl and the Burglars Took to Their Heels.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 15.—Miss Isobel Pontefract, one of the most popular young society girls of Pittsburg, is the heroine of the summer colony at Sewickley Heights. Miss Pon-tefract and her mother live in a stately mansion, with only their servants.

Recently there have been many burglaries in the vicinity. The women wanted protection, but they feared a revolver. So Miss Pontefract evolved a brilliant idea. She purchased a package of firecrackers and placed them under her pillow.

Saturday night the burglars came.
Miss Pontefract heard them and set off the crackers. The burglars ran as if a battery of artillery was after them, leaving behind a great mass of plunder. Miss Pontefract is being lionized. It is said she refused to marry young Eddie Cudahy.

Man Who is Charged With Theft of
$10,000 Worth of Gems.

Canton, Ohio, June 15.—John Collins, the Courtland hotel porter who disappeared coincident with the robbery of diamonds and jewelry said to be valued at $10,000, last December, is believed to be under arrest at some point in Missouri. Photos of the prisoner were identified by four attaches of the hotel.

The robbery was one of the boldest
in Canton's history, occurring in the very heart of the city and within 300
feet of a policeman on duty.

Early in the morning the thief
wheeled out of the hotel a trunk containing the jewelry and diamonds of
a representative of the firm of West,

Jefferson City, June 15.—Practically all the residents of Cedar City, a small town across the Missouri river

homes Sunday by the continued rise
of the river, and several persons living in Jefferson City were compelled to join those who fled from the water
Saturday. The Missouri, Kansas &
Texas railroad, which runs on the Callaway side of the river, abandoned
its train service between Boonville and St. Louis today. It ran all its trains by way of Sedalia.

WOMEN PRAISE JOHNSON

GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA NOT AVERSE, 'TIS SAID, TO FEMALE SUFFRAGE.

BRYAN AND HUGHES ARE OPPOSED

Taft Also Favors, "When the Women Are Ready for It"—Great Meeting Being Held at Amsterdam, Holland.

Amsterdam, Holland, June 15.—Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota, although a mere man, received the hearty endorsement of the International Women's Suffrage alliance at the opening meeting of that body here today.

Women representing the suffragist organizations of twenty-two nations are in attendance at the convention and all cheered heartily when an American delegate announced that the demand of the fair sex for the ballot had received the endorsement of a possible presidential candidate.

The speaker declared that Secretary Taft also favors equal suffrage, "when the women are ready for it," but that Bryan and Hughes are opposed to the reform, whereupon the women assembled blessed the names of Bryan and Hughes and cast all sorts of contumely upon them.

Eugene V. Debs, the socialist candidate, also came in for a hearty cheer when it was said that he is a friend of suffrage.

Of the twenty-two nations repre-

SOON BE OFF IN CHICAGO

THE NATIONAL "G. O. P." CONVENTION BE CALLED TO ORDER TOMORROW.

PLACE OF MEETING WILL BE "DRY"

Neither Will There Be Pictures of Prominent Party Leaders in the Hall—Criticism for Secretary Taft.

Chicago, June 15.—Tramping wildly and with the scent of battle in his nostrils, a trifle angered, perhaps by the prodding of ambitious ones who are attempting to climb upon his back, but still sound of wind and limb and eager for the fray, the old war elephant of the grand old party was led forth in Chicago today.

It is well that the aged beast of burden is in good condition, for if the enthusiasm of the Taft boomers today is any criterion, the G. O. P. elephant will have a hefty candidate to carry in this year's race. While the main show in the Coliseum will not open until noon tomorrow, practically all of the performers, scene-shifters and audience are now in the city, and every tavern in the big town is displaying a "standing room only" sign.

While many of the thirteen preceding national conventions of the republican party have not been lacking in spectacular features, this year's performance promises to be the liveliest in its history.

While all the surface indications point to the speedy nomination of Taft, probably on the first ballot, the specter of a "second elective term" and a stampede to Roosevelt is still looming in the background. Not all of the allies have yet given up hope, and the supporters of Hughes, Fairbanks, Knox and Cannon are at times able to make themselves heard above the deafening din of the Taft men.

The candidates for vice president are also receiving much attention from the delegates, and thousands of politicians and the supporters of the men now in the field are urging the merits of their favorites with the greatest vehemence. There is general talk today that Fairbanks may succeed himself, but this is strenuously denied by delegates from states having favorite sons of their own.

Manager Frank H. Hitchcock, of the Taft headquarters, is claiming 700 votes for his candidate on the first ballot, and declares that no other candidate will be seriously considered. As only 491 votes are necessary to nominate, a loss of 209 from this estimate would still leave Taft the victor. Manager Humphrey, of the Hughes headquarters, alleges that the New York candidate will receive not less than 125 votes on the first ballot.

Many prominent negro republicans are in Chicago today and this morning commenced a conference at the Quinn chapel. Speeches announcing opposition to Taft were made, but no specific favoritism as to candidates was shown.

The New York delegation is not manifesting any remarkable enthusiasm for Hughes and its support of the governor is likely to be half-hearted. The delegation will meet this afternoon at the Auditorium and a hot fight over the chairmanship is expected, arising from the opposition among some of the delegates to General Woodford. Delegations from many other states will hold their organization meetings this afternoon.

Despite the repeated declaration of President Roosevelt that he will not accept another nomination, the movement started by Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, is apparently gaining strength among the delegates. A circular is being distributed among the delegates setting forth that Roosevelt is the only candidate who could win a republican victory this fall, and giving the following reasons why Taft should not be nominated:

"The secretary of war has incurred the displeasure of the Jews, which will follow him to the polls, because of his visit to the czar of Russia on his most recent trip.

"Mr. Taft has incurred the openly announced hostility of the negroes because of his action in the Brownsville case.

"The secretary will encounter the almost solid opposition of labor because of his strike injunction record.

"And finally, his Memorial day speech has incurred for him the not-to-be-despised opposition of the Grand Army of the Republic and its affiliations."

The Coliseum, the scene of many historic gatherings, is now ready for the opening of the convention, the final touch to the decorations having been added today. Both the interior and the exterior of the big edifice have been decorated in a lavish and artistic manner.

Many changes have been made in the interior, the most radical of these being an entire change in the seating arrangements. The platform, instead of being at the center of one side of the Coliseum, is at one end. This does not decrease the number of seats, but will permit all who occupy seats both to see and to hear all the proceedings.

The total number of seats is 11,011, which includes the seats provided in the balcony that extends around the hall. On a raised platform above the floor of the Auditorium are seats for the chairman and secretaries of the convention, and fifty-six seats for members of the national committee.

The section immediately in the rear of the platform, provided for specially invited guests, contains 1,826 seats. Directly in front of the platform and extending on both sides of it are the sections provided for working members of the press. These sections give desk room for 473 writers, nearly 100 more than were provided for at the last convention.

In the body of the hall 1,000 seats are provided for the delegates, and immediately back of them 1,000 more have been set aside for the alternates. On each side of these two sections and in the rear of them are 3,615 seats for the spectators, these sections being arranged in amphitheater style. The balcony sections contain 3,198 seats for the general public, most of them being very desirable.

Entrances to the hall are provided on all sides, the total numbering twelve, exclusive of several stairway entrances from the basement to the platform and guests' sections.

In the basement admirable arrangements have been made for the convenience of the delegates, alternates and the members of the press. Telegraph and telephone rooms have been established and typewriting rooms provided for the newspaper men. The decorations of the Coliseum both inside and outside are elaborate.

No portraits have been allowed among the embellishments of the Coliseum. The convention hall will be absolutely "dry" during the convention, it having been decided that "no liquor shall be sold, served or brought to the convention hall."

It is generally believed that the Taft platform will be adopted as a declaration of principles by the convention.

In regard to the tariff, the plank will read:

"In government, we stand for a revision of the tariff by a special session of the next congress, insuring the maintaining of the true principles of protection by imposing such customs duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit, to the end that, without excessive duties, American manufacturers, farmers, producers and wage earners may have adequate protection."

With a view to doing away with some of the evil effects of the currency law just enacted there will be a pledge that the next congress shall take up the currency question and enact a permanent law that will establish safe and satisfactory monetary conditions and relieve the business of the nation from the fear of panic.

It is also understood that there will be a plank favoring anti-injunction legislation and other legislation favorable to labor, which Secretary Taft is known to advocate earnestly, and that something will be said respecting the rights of the negroes and the progress made by that race, intended to counteract the effect of Foraker's agitation of the Brownsville question.

The Roosevelt policies respecting the regulation of railroads, the prosecution of trusts and the conservation of natural resources are to be endorsed and their continuance promised. According to the present understanding, the whole document will be one that Taft can himself accept and that the country will approve.

The convention will be called to order at noon tomorrow by Chairman Harry S. New, who will use a gavel made of wood from Fort Dearborn. Bishop F. J. Muldoon will make the opening prayer, after which the selection of committees and other preliminary business will be transacted.

Cadillac, Mich., June 15.—In a recurrent fit of insanity, induced by her husband's inability to secure employment, Mrs. Daniel Cooper chloroformed her sleeping husband and five children last Friday night, pressed a pistol to the temples of each and blotted out six lives, completing her murderous impulse by sending a bullet through her own brain.

One son, Fred Cooper, alone clung to life for a few hours, dying at Mercy hospital Saturday afternoon a few seconds after he uttered the accusation, "Mother did it."

2,000 in membership during the last year.

Ninety per cent of the membership is now employed eight hours a day, or have agreements providing for the inauguration of the eight-hour day within the next six months.

Eleven hundred members, in twenty-six cities, are now on strike for the purpose of establishing the eight-hour work day.

This subject is the most important to come before the present convention, and the board of directors, it is stated on good authority, will recommend the aggressive prosecution of the strike to a successful conclusion.

The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union comprises pressmen, assistants and feeders in the commercial printing industry, and pressmen and assistants in the newspaper printing industry. The subject of legislative autonomy for the latter branch of the membership will also come up for consideration before the convention.

The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union has an arbitration agreement with the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, under the influence of which the pleasantest of relations have obtained between the union and the publishers for the past six years.

The Seven Prophets.

"The late duke of Devonshire," said a diplomat at a Washington dinner, "kept a stud and took a calm and ducal interest in the races."

"There was a certain sporting paper that kept a large staff of prophets and always prophesied the outcome of important races. The duke, for some reason, put great reliance in these prophets and their prophecies. He always read the paper, and he continually recommended it to his friends."

"But once at Goodwood, at the day's end, a man came up to the duke and said: 'What of your paper now? Did you see it this morning? Six prophets prophesied that six different horses would win, and here seven ran, and the winner was the seventh, which no prophet had selected. Well, what have you to say now?'"

"All I have to say," the duke answered, calmly, "is that there's room for another prophet on that paper."

CONVICTED OF EXTORTION

Doctor in Pittsburg Fled From a Beautiful Woman.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 15.—In the criminal court Thomas L. McKee was found guilty of extortion, and his beautiful young wife, Mary Louise McKee, who is also under indictment, will be tried next.

Mrs. McKee sat by her husband through the trial, being the principal feature of the trial, which was rather spicy.

It was alleged by Dr. George S. Winters, a rich young physician of the West End, that McKee and his wife conspired to extort money from him by alleging that Dr. Winters had been too friendly with Mrs. McKee.

On the stand Winters gave a dramatic recital of how McKee had sent for him to visit his wife in his own absence, and how the beautiful woman had put her arms about him until he fled from the house in fear. Mrs. McKee wept in rage at the doctor's recital.

ENGINEER KILLED IN WRECK

Charles De Voss Loses Life Near Tonganoxie, Kas.

Kansas City, June 15.—Missouri Pacific train No. 504, Kansas City bound, left the track near Tonganoxie, Kan., at 7:45 o'clock last evening, the engine with tender rolling down a small embankment. Engineer Charles De Voss, of 638 Norton avenue, this city, was caught in the wreck and killed. He died half an hour later.

Fireman William Kohn, who was with De Voss in the cab at the time of the accident, succeeded in swinging out the last moment before the engine turned over and was unhurt. Freight train No. 504 has been shut back and forth between this city and Valley Forge, Kan., floods preventing its passage further on the line. The wreck last night came suddenly, the rails fairly slipping from under the engine on the water-soaked roadbed.

De Voss was the oldest engineer in point of service on the Kansas City and Western division of the Missouri Pacific. He had served the company in the capacity of engineer for twenty-one years. He was 48 years of age. A widow survives him. The body of De Voss was not sent from Tonganoxie last night.

CLAIM LAND IN ARIZONA

YAQUI TRIBE OF INDIANS HAS HOISTED THE FLAG OF SURRENDER.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT AGREED ON

Today is the Time Fixed for a Ratification of the Terms of Peace —Soldiers Present in Fear of Trouble.

El Paso, Texas, June 15.—After a warfare which has extended over 129 years, cost thousands of lives and a property loss estimated at $30,000,000 and which has been marked by excessive cruelty and brutality on both sides, the Yaqui nation of Indians has at last hoisted the flag of surrender.

Terms of settlement have been agreed upon by representatives of the Mexican army and Chief Brile, of the Yaquis, and today has been set for a gathering of the Indian tribes to ratify the treaty of peace.

Many doubt that the Indians are acting in good faith, and that the Mexican army officers share this misgiving is evidenced by the fact that troops in large numbers have been massed in the district, prepared for a possible uprising today.

The Yaqui tribe claims ownership of a large tract of land in Arizona, and an envoy was recently sent to Washington to lay the matter before the department of the interior. It is unlikely that the Washington authorities will be in any haste to invite the "scourges of Mexico" to the United States.

The terms of settlement between the Mexican government and the Indians provide unconditional submission of the Yaquis to the authority of the government; that the lives and property of the Indians be respected, and that they be protected in all rights and privileges accorded to Mexican citizens under existing laws, provided, however, that for the time being they must not go north of Ures; that all arms and munitions of war in the hands of the Indians be delivered to the military authorities, that emissaries should be sent to the different Yaqui bands, advising them to cease hostilities and deliver up their arms; and that the government provide all necessities for the submitting Indians until such time as work can be provided for them.

Although Christianized by the Spanish fathers, the Yaquis steadfastly refused to accept the dominion of Spain, and as soldiers in the revolutionary army, materially aided in driving the Spaniards from the country, and in later years, against the armies of the republic, they stubbornly maintained their freedom.

When at peace, they enjoyed all the rights and privileges accorded to other citizens of Mexico, but their fealty to tribal relations was never broken.

WOUNDS WOMAN AND HIMSELF

Infatuated Youth Calls Woman to Door and Shoots Her.

Birmingham, Ala., June 15.—Fether Burchfield, aged 21 years, a journeyman electrician, last afternoon shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Mildred Van Hooser wife of a railroad engineer, but separated, and then turned the pistol on himself and sent a bullet through his body, inflicting a fatal wound.

He visited the home of Mrs. Van Hooser, near South Highlands, and, after calling the woman to the door, began firing. There was a struggle and another woman appeared on the scene and was shot at.

After Mrs. Van Hooser fell to the floor, wounded twice in the abdomen, the young man walked into the front room of the house and sent a bullet through his body. Two years ago Burchfield met Mrs. Van Hooser at a local skating rink. His infatuation for the woman brought on the tragedy.

On Some Occasions You Could Afford to Pay One Dollar a Word For Want Advertising

WANT ADVERTISING
SPACE is the lowest-priced thing of value you can buy in this city. This phase of the matter probably never occurred to you.

But think it over. Suppose that the rate for want advertising in this newspaper were one dollar a word! A prohibitive rate, you say? Perhaps, for some classes of business.

But if you were compelled to sell real estate, a dollar a word for an ad. would still be a profit-returning rate for you If It Found the Best Market for Your Property. It would be a cheap rate for a Situation Wanted ad if it found twice as good a job for you as you have ever had. It would be a profitable way to secure a tenant for vacant property.

In fact, perhaps half of the want ads. Would Pay the Advertisers At a Dollar a Word—and a great many of them would be paid for at that rate if this newspaper charged that rate.

The purpose of this comparison is not to announce any advance in the want advertising rates—but to bring to your mind the fact that want ad. space, as now sold, is a genuine "bargain."

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY MUST FACE REBATE CHARGES.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Alleging the payment of rebates aggregating over $220,000 by the Missouri Pacific to the T. H. Bunch company, grain dealers at Little Rock and Argenta, Ark., the Brook-Rausch Mill and Elevator company, of Little Rock, has filed complaint with the interstate commerce commission.

The petition declares that the Missouri Pacific built on their own property for the Bunch company a warehouse at Little Rock and a warehouse, elevator and mill at Argenta and turned them over for an annual rental.

The petitioner declares that the railroad company pays the annual taxes, and grants them rebates on grain shipments when delayed. The Brook-Rausch company asserts this alleged violation of the law has been continuing since 1887.

The complainants estimate that the total value of the buildings erected by the Missouri Pacific and practically presented to the H. T. Bunch company is $70,000; that the machinery is valued at $150,000 and swear that a fair yearly rental would be $20,000 a year.

The Katy Wreck Victims.

The M. K. & T. track two miles south of Clinton, which was blocked by the wreck of train No. 4 at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, was cleared for passage at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

R. A. Taylor, a cook from McAllister, Ok., who sustained a contusion of the right thigh, likewise the following five wreck victims, are getting along favorably at the M. K. & T. hospital in this city:

W. Hamilton, train porter, St. Louis, contusion left chest and back and probable fracture of rib.

E. O. Palmer, Pullman porter, St. Louis, laceration of left side of face and wrench of back.

Engineer Scalded to Death.

A spreading rail, caused by recent heavy rains, overturned an engine on an embankment in the railroad yards at Quincy, Ill., Sunday.

Alonzo L. Borders, the engineer, aged 38 year, was scalded, and died shortly after being taken to a hospital.

Frederick Mester, the fireman, had his leg broken and suffered other painful injuries, but it is thought that he will recover.

Many Cattle Fed Here.

One hundred and eighty carloads of cattle were fed at the Katy stock yards here last night, and were sent to the St. Louis market, going to Moberly over the M. K. & T. and thence to their destination over the Wabash, owing to high water on the eastern division of the Katy.

Many Have Left the City.

When the Missouri Pacific shops closed on February 20 the local lodge of machinists had a membership of 163, but it has dwindled to 60, the others having gone elsewhere in search of employment.

Cy McVey, a Missouri Pacific machinist, left this afternoon for Atchison, Kan., to work in the machine shops under Foreman Butler.

All trains on the M. K. & T. are being detoured from Moberly to St. Louis via the Wabash railway on account of high water in the vicinity of Kingsbury.

A. A. Allen, vice president and general manager of the M. K. & T., and T. S. McDowell, general superintendent in Texas, passed through Sedalia on Katy train No. 2 Sunday.

There was a report yesterday that ten boilermakers were to be put to work this morning at the new shops of the Missouri Pacific, but Master Mechanic M. J. McGraw stated to the Democrat-Sentinel today that the number was two instead of ten.

Letter Mail Soaking Wet.

A quantity of letter mail that was in the M. K. & T. wreck near Clinton Saturday night was brought to Sedalia Sunday. Much of it was soaked with water, and in some instances the addresses were not easy to decipher.

A wagon load of mail for Northeast Missouri points was also brought here from Kansas City Sunday and sent north over the M. K. & T. owing to the fact that the roads over which it is usually sent from Kansas City are tied up by the high water.

Another Victim of Wreck.

Col. Thomas J. Lingle, of Clinton, was among the M. K. & T. wreck victims near there Saturday night, but his name was omitted from the list of injured. He was returning from a trip to Vinita, and his right shoulder was badly hurt, there possibly being a fracture. A telephone message from Clinton this morning says that all of the wreck victims there are getting along nicely and will recover.

MINISTER WARNS GIRLS

REV. JOSEPHUS STEPHAN ADVISES THEM NOT TO WEAR DIRECTOIRE GOWNS.

CAUTION CAUSES MANY TO SMILE

A Preacher in St. Louis Thinks It is Expedient to Follow Fashion in Dress Within Reasonable Limits.

St. Louis, Mo., June 15.—While admitting that the warning was scarcely necessary, Rev. Josephus Stephan, in a special sermon to young women at the Shaw avenue Southern Methodist church, last evening warned them against the directoire gown, about which so much has been said recently. Mr. Stephan is himself a Frenchman, but he knows of the gown only through casual reading about it, he says, in the daily papers, and inspecting by chance the pictures which illustrate the gown.

The immodesty and unbecomingness of this new garb, according to ministerial eyes, were used as an illustration by Mr. Stephan of what young ladies ought not to be. The references to the directoire came at the beginning of the sermon, and occasioned smiles among his hearers. Mr. Stephan said that he did not suppose anybody in his congregation would ever wear a gown like that, or even think about wearing one, but such gowns and the spirit of them ought to be carefully guarded against.

The minister counseled the young women, who filled many pews at this service, that the true adornment of womanhood came from within, and did not consist in fine-fitting garments, or jewelry, or complexion washes. The minister said he did not intend to make a tirade against dress, and he thought it expedient for young women and others to dress in conformity with the fashions, within reasonable limits. But the virtues of the inner life, reality, purity, sincerity and goodness, would shine from within to beautify the possessor, and her serious thoughts should be set upon these rather than upon the extremes of worldly fashion.

DESIGNED GEORGETOWN LOOP

The End to Captain E. L. Berthoud, a Veteran Engineer.

Golden, Col., June 15.—Captain E. L. Berthoud, designer of the Georgetown loop, pathfinder on the Union Pacific railroad in its original surveys through 1,000 miles of territory in Nebraska, Colorado and Utah and one of the first engineers of the Panama railroad, died here Sunday afternoon.

Several weeks ago Captain Berthoud fainted and fell down stairs with a lighted lamp in his hand. The burns he received caused his death. He was born eighty-three years ago in Switzerland. He came to America in 1830 and served in the Union army in the civil war.

RUSH FOR PICKPOCKETS

After Felling a Car Conductor They Managed to Escape.

Philadelphia, Penn., June 15.—A street car fight and a chase of two blocks after two pickpockets during the "rush" period followed the discovery that thieves were at work among the passengers of Thirtieth street cars. This is the second time pickpockets have been found on the same line within three weeks.

Henry Pougette lost his pocket-book and attempted to intercept two men who were making for the rear door. When he saw that they were about to elude him he shouted a warning to the conductor.

The latter and a passenger on the back platform tried to stop the men, but each was dealt a blinding blow in the face. Before either of them recovered the two men had escaped.

TORNADO ON THE SABBATH

The Sum of $10,000 in Currency Was Scattered.

Carthage, N. Y., June 15.—A small sized tornado, born somewhere over the Canada line, swept Gen. Grant's big military camp here last afternoon.

It snatched up the camp in its teeth and when it had whirled out of Jefferson county in the general direction of Watertown, the military home of some 5,000 regulars and guardsmen was a woeful and dismal looking spot.

The fierce driving wind leveled tents, scattered $10,000 worth of Paymaster Holloway's good new currency over several acres of ground, injured fifteen or twenty troops slightly, frightened the cavalry horses to wild stampedes and left the ground soaked as a sponge.

Major George T. Holloway, of the pay department, with Adj. Davis, of the Twelfth, was paying off the regulars. He brought $91,600 to camp with him Saturday, $30,000 of which he had handed over the table when the wind struck him. In an instant the tent was high in the air, the pay table knocked flat and thousands of dollars in bills were whirling away through the air. Some of the money the officers saved by falling on it.

They stopped the mad flight of a bucketful of $10 bills and of a dozen packages of $10 notes and smaller denominations, but at least $10,000 the major figured, got away. They were picking up money all over the camp last night. Since the major is responsible personally for the government cash, it will take a special act of congress to square him for the loss.

CAMPAIGN BOOK DELAYED

Promised Material Coming Slowly for Document.

Washington, June 15.—Representative James T. Lloyd, of Missouri, expects to have the democratic campaign book out by July 1. Mr. Lloyd is setting a good example to the force of clerks under him at the headquarters of the democratic congressional committee, of which he is chairman, by working early and hard and by hurrying things as rapidly as possible.

His greatest handicap is in his inability to get the material promised by many democratic members of the house. So many of them had fights on in their districts for renomination that they hurried home immediately upon the adjournment of congress, and have not been heard from since.

Mr. Lloyd has lost no opportunity, however, to exact speeches for "campaign purposes" from the few democrats who remained in the city after adjournment, and he has added a lot himself to the bulk of the congressional record, some days having three "speeches" under his own name which were not delivered, but were inserted under the general leave to print, which the members of the house voted to themselves just before adjournment.

YOUNG HERO MET DEATH

Saving the Lives of Two Boys Who Were in Imminent Peril.

Philadelphia, Penn., June 15.—Robert Jackson, aged 16, who was squeezed between freight cars on the Reading railway siding, near his home, after he had succeeded in throwing two lads from their perilous position on the bumpers, saving their lives, died yesterday in the Samaritan hospital.

Jackson saw the boys playing on the freight cars, while a switch engine was approaching. He dashed down the track and reached the cars only an instant before the engine made the coupling.

The Sedalia Cubs Won.

The Sedalia Cubs, probably the strongest ball club in Sedalia, went to Holden Sunday and played the team there, the Sedalians winning by a score of 3 to 2 in ten innings.

The features of the game were the pitching of Tom Davenick and the heavy hitting of Clem, a line drive by him in the tenth inning winning the game. The hits were: Sedalia, 9; Holden, 3.

The Holden club is made up of good players and the contest was well worth witnessing.
